Golden, L. (2004). Case Studies in Marriage & Family Therapy. Pearson Hall: NJ

Course Description

This course represents the second of six quarters of Pastoral Counseling/Mental Health practicum. The fourth quarter will focus on the continuing integration of theory and practice, with a special emphasis on marriage and family therapy. Biopsychosocial-spiritual dimensions will also be addressed.

Course Goals

As integrated clinicians and professionals, students will:

1. Develop a systemic theoretical orientation to working with clinical cases;
2. Refine basic hypothesizing, goal setting, and treatment planning skills necessary for clinical work;
3. Reflect and refine theologically one's personal philosophy and the application of this to clinical work;

Course Requirements

1. Class Attendance & Participation (50 points): Participation in class exercises and discussions are an essential part of your growth and development both personally and professionally. Active participation is a requirement in this class and defined in the following manner: Voluntary speaking and contributing to class discussion throughout the course. Active participation includes an open and honest response to what is being discussed during the course of the quarter. Be willing to give of yourself and take risks. If you miss class, an alternative assignment may be given depending on the day missed. You are responsible for speaking to the instructor upon your return to determine if a make-up assignment is due. Only one class absence will be excused if a valid reason is given.

2 Skills Training in Clinical Practicum Groups

Informal Presentation: This will include discussion of problems (focus of treatment), hypotheses, goals and plans for treatment through the lens of student's chosen theory (individual or systemic theory). They must also include at least one video clip.

Formal Presentation (50 points = 25 for Oral & 25 for Written): The case summary will be presented in the 10 minute format required for case presentations (see Comprehensive Pastoral-Clinical Assessment in Student Manual). Also include a one-page summary of problem, hypotheses, goals, & plans written according to the following outline:

I. PROBLEM (the focus of treatment)

A. HYPOTHESIS DIRECTLY RELATED TO PROBLEM (i.e. problem and its effects on functioning)

A. I. GOAL (one or more) DIRECTLY FLOWING FROM HYPOTHESIS (must be measurable)

A. I. a. PLAN (one or more) DIRECTLY FLOWING FROM GOAL (must be behavioral)

These will be written through the systemic lens. 2 video clips from a case will be chosen to reflect student's development. These should be discussed through the lens of systemic theoretical perspective. Student will allow time for feedback and discussion of the presentation.

3. Personal & Professional Clinical Reflection (50 points)

Select and write 1-2 personal goals for your clinical skill development for this quarter (Written and discussed during your formal case presentation). Be sure to include one that has to do with spiritual, cultural or gender issues in your clinical development.

Written and oral reflection will be provided by the student on his/her growth during the Formal Case Presentation. A 3-page written reflection is due on the week of your presentation. Reflect on your progress during your oral-formal case presentation.
