THE DEPARTMENT OF CHEMISTRY

at Seattle University invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track Assistant Professor beginning September, 2012. Exceptional candidates at Associate or Full Professor who have a demonstrated record of accomplishment in teaching, extramural funding, and publication may be considered.

The ACS approved Chemistry Department at Seattle University offers bachelor's degrees in chemistry and biochemistry. Successful applicants must have multidisciplinary interests that support research and teaching in the College of Science and Engineering and will be expected to develop an independent, externally funded research program that emphasizes undergraduate research. A Ph.D. in chemistry or highly related discipline, promise of teaching excellence, and a commitment to undergraduate research are essential; post-doctoral experience is highly desirable. Teaching responsibilities will include courses in physical chemistry and at least one of the following areas: analytical, inorganic, organic and biochemistry as well as opportunities to develop interdisciplinary courses for majors and non-majors.

Seattle University, founded in 1891, is a Jesuit Catholic university located on 48 acres on Seattle's Capitol Hill. More than 7,500 students are enrolled in undergraduate and graduate programs within eight schools. U.S. News and World Report's "Best Colleges 2011" ranks Seattle University among the top 10 universities in the West that offer a full range of masters and undergraduate programs. Seattle University is an equal opportunity employer.

Applications should be submitted via the university's jobs website

<https://jobs.seattleu.edu>

Required materials include: curriculum vitae, the names and contact information for at least three references, and separate statements that address 1) teaching philosophy and 2) proposed research that include possible contributions to the departmental and University missions. Inquiries regarding the position should be directed to Kristen J. Skogerboe at skogerbo@seattleu.edu. Review of applications will begin October 1, 2011. Applications received after that date may be considered until the position is filled.
