Leadership Executive MBA Scholarship Program Overview

The LEMBA program reflects Seattle University's holistic definition of academic excellence, one that transcends classroom performance and encompasses the professional careers and lives of our LEMBA students. The purpose of the Albers School and Hagen* scholarships is to support the leadership formation of mid-to-senior level professionals pursuing the Leadership Executive MBA. Awards range from $10,000 – $30,000 and are dispersed equally across the six quarters of the LEMBA program.

These scholarships are designed to support leaders whose background and experience reflect their commitment to one or more of Seattle University's values including academic excellence, service and leadership, community, and global engagement.

* The Hagen scholarships are awarded to Early Decision (December 1) and March 1 applicants only.

Scholarship Application Instructions and Deadlines

To apply for a scholarship, a candidate must complete a Statement of Interest (described below) and upload it as an extra submission within the application. Awards are typically made in conjunction with offers of admission. Applicants that submit a LEMBA application without completing the scholarship portion are welcome to apply for a scholarship after they are admitted, and their application will be evaluated at the next application deadline.

Statement of Interest

- 1) Use three of the five Seattle University values (academic excellence, service and leadership, community, spirituality, and global engagement) to describe how your professional experience can add value to the classroom.
- 2) Specify how receiving a scholarship and the LEMBA degree will enhance your professional career (i.e. what specifically do you hope to accomplish professionally upon completing the LEMBA degree?).
- 3) Please describe any financial need you have that might be relevant to the review committee in making award decisions.
- 4) Please describe any tuition assistance provided by your employer.
