JUSTICE?

SPIRITUALITY?

SUSTAINABILITY?
What is “Spirituality”?

“Spirituality I take to be concerned with those qualities of the human spirit -- such as love and compassion, patience, tolerance, forgiveness, contentment, a sense of responsibility, a sense of harmony -- which bring happiness to both self and others.
“Thus spiritual practice… involves, on the one hand, acting out of concern for others’ well-being. On the other, it entails transforming ourselves so that we become more readily disposed to do so. To speak of spiritual practice in any terms other than these is meaningless.
“My call for a spiritual revolution is thus not a call for a religious revolution. Nor is it a reference to a way of life that is somehow otherworldly.... Rather, it is a call for a radical reorientation away from our habitual preoccupation with self.”

This system is not just “wasteful”, it is ECOLOGICALLY IMMORAL.
What is our highest VALUE?
VISIONS
AND META-VISIONS...
Shariff Abdullah:
“We can create a world that works for all beings.”

William McDonough:
“[We can] love all the children, of all species, for all time.”

Mark Anielski:
“We can create an economy of enduring happiness, an economy of love.”
Our current long-range plan...

“Let’s Kill this Planet”

“The purpose of a system is what it does.”

Stafford Beer
Some of us are engaged in a related plan...

“Let’s Kill this Planet SLOWER”.

• Let’s do all we can to save the Earth – so long as:
  • it doesn’t cost too much
  • we don’t have to change ourselves or our lifestyles too much
  • we don’t have to question our basic attitudes and assumptions about work, money... or anything else.
“I sit on a man’s back, choking him, and making him carry me...

...and yet assure myself and others that I am very sorry for him and wish to ease his lot by any means possible...

Leo Tolstoy
