

Seattle University College of Nursing

Learning Outcomes Map of Seattle University Graduate Learning Outcomes and DNP Program Learning Outcomes

	Seattle University Graduate Learning Outcomes
DNP Program Learning Outcomes: Graduates will demonstrate the following in the care of individuals and families within culturally diverse and vulnerable populations.	Demonstrate mastery of competencies required in profession	Demonstrate effective communication in speech & writing	Exhibit professional integrity, ethical leadership, & effective collaboration skill	Recognize & address moral & ethical challenges within the profession informed by Jesuit Catholic tradition	Assess personal & professional levels of commitment to service for a just & sustainable world informed by a global perspective	Develop a professional perspective focused on life-long learning that is informed by the knowledge & skills of their graduate education
1. Synthesize knowledge from nursing and other disciplines in the provision of evidence-based advanced practice nursing care.	X
2. Utilize information systems technology to improve healthcare access, quality, and outcomes.	X
3. Demonstrate competence in an advanced nursing practice specialty.	X
4. Exercise leadership through scholarship, advocacy, and community engagement to achieve just and equitable healthcare systems that improve health potential and reduce health disparities of vulnerable populations.			X	X	X	X
5. Evaluate and influence healthcare systems and health policy at local, state, federal, and global levels.			X
6. Demonstrate effective communication and interprofessional collaboration in the promotion of healthcare access, quality, and outcomes.		X	X
7. Evaluate beliefs, values and ways of knowing to foster lifelong personal & professional development.				X	X	X
8. Apply ethical decision-making in complex clinical situations.			X	X		