How to Give a Good Talk
by Brian Fischer, Seattle U.

Giving effective oral presentations is a key part of having success in your academic and professional career. Many of you will soon be preparing your senior synthesis presentations and you want to finish your project with a great talk. I will present several principles that will help you to design and deliver an effective oral presentation. There will be time for discussion so that others can share their expertise.

For additional info contact McLean Sloughter: sloughtj@seattleu.edu or Katya Yurasovskaya yurasov@seattleu.edu