Student Employment: Federal or State Work Study awards are not included in the cost calculation on page one because wages earned for work performed are paid directly to the student in the form of a paycheck on scheduled pay dates.

A Federal or State Work Study award on the SU Offer Letter does not guarantee employment. On-campus Federal Work Study and off-campus State Work Study employment opportunities are limited. Students are responsible for performing their own job search using the Handshake platform, an online job board of part-time and temporary student employment positions. Job search strategies are available by visiting the SU Career Engagement Office and/or its website: <https://www.seattleu.edu/careerengagement/>.

The Student Financial Services Office posts on-campus and off-campus student employment opportunities for all students on Handshake. Please note that Handshake postings include opportunities for students who have been awarded work study as well as for those who want to work part-time but do not have work study as part of their financial aid award.

For more information about student employment at Seattle University, please visit the Student Financial Services Student Employment web page at www.seattleu.edu/financial-aid/student-employment/.
