SEATTLE
UNIVERSITY
COMMENCEMENT

CONGRATULATIONS TO THE GRADUATES OF THE CLASS OF 2026

Dear Members of Seattle University's Class of 2026,

Congratulations to our graduating students in this 135th year of Seattle University! Thanks to the parents and families for supporting these students and to the faculty and staff of the university for your education and service.

Jesuit education seeks "to accompany students in their creation of a hope-filled future." We believe that such a future must be shaped by students themselves, in their own ways, supported by the education, formation and witness we provide.

What might be some helpful suggestions for graduates on this commencement day as you create your future with the help of your education? Henry David Thoreau in Walden has a suggestive comment about this. He writes, "I had three chairs in my house: one for solitude, two for friendship, three for society."

In "solitude" we hope you will draw from the deepest sources of your truth, personal values, faith and spirituality as you make your life choices. In "friendship" may you find encouraging and life-enhancing accompaniment in the relationships of your journey. In "society" our prayer is you find your own way to create and serve the more "just and humane world" your school envisions in its mission.

We trust and believe that you approach the future of your own life, as well as that of your country and world, with a hope beyond the scope of your elders. We all need your optimism and your creativity as you fashion your education into a hope-filled world.

Thank you for being our students and welcome to being our alumni. Thanks again to parents and families, faculty and staff. Let us celebrate this special day together!

Gratefully,

Fr. Stephen Sundborg, S.J.

ABOUT SEATTLE UNIVERSITY

Founded in 1891, Seattle University is a Jesuit and Catholic university dedicated to educating the whole person, professional formation and empowering leaders for a just and humane world.

Our holistic educational experience embraces each student's individuality and unique lived experiences. It starts with our exceptional faculty and staff, who care passionately about each student. Within and outside of the classroom, Seattle University's students engage in deep learning and rich experiential opportunities that nourish, open and challenge their minds and hearts. From a vibrant and green campus in one of the world's most progressive, high-tech regions, our students are encouraged to not only envision their purpose in life, but to begin making their impact felt. And they do.

"The primary way we live our Seattle University mission is through our students and alumni," says President Eduardo Peñalver. The 90,000+ alumni around the world who call themselves Redhawks are at the forefront of positive change, living out the values of Seattle University, combining innovation with humanity and bringing creative solutions to the world's most pressing and persistent challenges.

Today we welcome you as our newest alumni, and with pride in what you already have accomplished, we anticipate with great hopefulness the difference you will make in your professions and your communities.

UNDERGRADUATE SPEAKER

Robert Paylor

In one instant, Robert Paylor was competing at the pinnacle of collegiate rugby. In the next, a severe spinal cord injury left him paralyzed from the neck down, with doctors predicting he would never walk or move his hands again. Facing overwhelming physical and emotional challenges, Robert refused to let this define him. Through relentless determination, he not only regained the ability to walk but also earned his degree from UC Berkeley's Haas School of Business, married the love of his life, and has inspired millions with his story.

Today, Robert is an author and sought-after speaker whose book, Paralyzed to Powerful, helps individuals and organizations overcome mental, emotional, and organizational paralysis. His story has been featured in Sports Illustrated, People Magazine, Fox News, and CBS News, and he has spoken for Fortune 500 companies, collegiate and professional sports teams, and schools nationwide.

Robert has a personal connection to Seattle University: his grandmother is an alumna, and he himself was shaped by Jesuit education. He is honored to share his journey and message of possibility with the graduating class of Seattle U.

HONORARY DEGREE RECIPIENT GRADUATE SPEAKER

Dr. Thomas J. Lynch Jr.

Dr. Thomas J. Lynch Jr. is a world-renowned scientist, highly respected oncologist and successful NCI-designated comprehensive cancer center leader. As the President and Director of Fred Hutch Cancer Center, and holder of the Raisbeck Endowed Chair, Dr. Lynch brings more than three decades of experience at highly regarded U.S. cancer centers. He has expertise in solid tumor research, precision medicine and discoveries in fundamental biology. Before joining Fred Hutch, Dr. Lynch held leadership roles as CSO at Bristol-Myers Squibb, CEO of Massachusetts General Physicians Organization, director of Yale Cancer Center, physician-in-chief at Yale's Smilow Cancer Hospital, as well as chief of hematology-oncology at Massachusetts General Hospital and professor of medicine at Harvard Medical School. Dr. Lynch is a member of the American Association for Cancer Research, the American Society of Clinical Oncology, the International Association for the Study of Lung Cancer, and The Washington State Academy of Sciences.

HISTORY OF THE CAP AND GOWN

American academic costume—also known as the academic regalia or dress—has its origins in ancient European universities. The caps, gowns and hoods universally worn by faculty and candidates for degrees at graduating exercises are a costume dating back to the 12th century. In medieval days the scholars were clerics who wore long cassocks; the buildings were cold, and capes and hoods were required for warmth.

As colleges and universities were founded in the United States they adopted the three principles of academic dress—gown, hood, and cap—from their European counterparts. Although some common standards and practices were observed, no uniform code or system existed until late in the 19th century, when three styles of gowns were adopted: a bachelor's gown, a master's gown, and a doctor's gown. The differences in these gowns are mainly in the cut and shape of the sleeves and in the trimming. The gown worn for the bachelor's or master's degrees has no trimmings. The gown for the doctoral degree has velvet down its front and three bars of velvet across the sleeves in the color distinctive of the faculty or discipline pertaining to the degree.

The hood resembles an inverted medieval shield—worn on the back instead of the front of the body. The shell of the hood matches the black or red material of the gown and is lined with satin of the color or colors of the institution conferring the degree. The velvet bordering of the hood is a color reflecting the field of learning to which the degree pertains.

The Oxford cap, an earlier name, was a symbol of privilege worn by freed slaves in ancient Rome; the academic cap today is a sign of the freedom of scholarship and the responsibility and dignity it carries. Old poetry records the cap of scholarship as square to symbolize the book; other authorities claim that the mortar board or cap is a symbol of the masons, a privileged guild.

Prior to the actual conferring of the degree, the tassel is worn over the right eye and once the degree is conferred, the tassel is moved to the left eye.

THE SEATTLE UNIVERSITY SEAL

HISTORY OF THE SEAL

Seattle University has had a formal seal for more than a century. During this time the seal has evolved through three changes. Each change has increased the impact and clarity of the symbolism of the seal. The seal has also changed to reflect the evolution of the university from Seattle College to Seattle University. The origin of the original seal is not known, but there is some indication that it was designed by the late James Brogan, S.J., pastor of St. Joseph's Church; Father Brogan was instrumental in designing the seal of Gonzaga University as well. Sometime before 1956, the seal was refined by Neil Meany, S.J. The current refinement of the university seal was designed by David Balzer, Seattle University creative director and formally approved by Seattle University President Stephen V. Sundborg, S.J., in July 2003. The current seal was updated to reinforce the Jesuit tradition of Seattle University and to recognize the university's location in the city of Seattle and the Northwest.

EXPLANATION OF SYMBOLS

THE EAGLE

At the top of the emblem is an American bald eagle, from the great shield of the United States.

THE TWO WOLVES HOVERING OVER A HANGING POT

In the upper left quadrant are two wolves (one representing the house of Onaz, the second wolf the house of Loyola) hovering over a hanging pot, the traditional symbol of the generosity of the Loyola family.

IHS

In the top right quadrant of the shield are the letters "IHS," from the first three letters in the Greek spelling of Jesus and of special significance to members of the Society of Jesus.

THE NORTHWEST

In the lower left quadrant of the shield is a stand of western hemlocks, the official state tree of Washington. In the background is the snow-capped peak of Mt. Rainier. This identifies Seattle University with Seattle, the state of Washington, and the Northwest.

THE SEVEN RIBBONS

In the bottom right quadrant are seven diagonal stripes representing the awards for valor made by the King of Spain to the house of Onaz. The wolves and the ribbons of valor are devices common to the official seals of all Jesuit schools.

THE "1891" BANNER

The banner located across the bottom of the seal contains the date of the founding of the university, 1891. This date represents not only the founding, but also the university's long tradition of Jesuit education and academic excellence.

GONFALONS

Gonfalons are historic heraldic flags or banners. They typically hang from a crossbar and include a decorative feature on the top, such as an ornament spear or finial. Seattle University first introduced gonfalons in 2014 to represent each college and school of the university.

THE PRESIDENTIAL MEDALLION

The presidential chain of office is the badge of office worn by the University president on formal academic occasions. Seattle University's medallion is made of forged bronze and features the university seal.

THE UNIVERSITY MACE

Historically, the mace was a heavy staff, often spiked, used especially in the Middle Age for breaking armor, in other words, a club used as a weapon. Later it became a staff borne by or carried before a dignitary as an ensign of authority. Ceremonial maces often retain some trace of their war-like ancestry with the spikes giving way to precious metal and jewels. The current Seattle University mace is made of wood with the University seal etched in metal at its tip.

WALLACE LOH ACADEMIC EXCELLENCE AWARD

Mingxi Tong

The Wallace Loh Academic Excellence Award is given to the outstanding graduating student in the College of Arts and Sciences Graduate Programs. Selection is based upon exceptional graduate work in the classroom. Qualification evidenced by paper/article submission, conference presentations, fellowship or scholarship awards, and interdisciplinary scholarship work. The award honors the impact that Dr. Wallace Loh had upon graduate programs in the College of Arts and Sciences. Dr. Loh served as Dean of the college from 1999-2008. Under his leadership, four of the seven Arts and Sciences graduate programs were created.

LEADERSHIP AND PROFESSIONAL ENGAGEMENT AWARD

Luam Ghebreybrhan Ghebrehwet Isaiah Rahman Khan

The Leadership and Professional Engagement Award recognizes the graduating student in the College of Arts and Sciences who has demonstrated exceptional leadership abilities and professional engagement. The recipient is an innovative forward thinker, making new roads in their chosen field. Their professional development efforts contribute to the vibrant educational experience in their graduate program.

SOCIAL JUSTICE AND COMMUNITY ENGAGEMENT AWARD

Monica Rebecca Alfonso

The Social Justice and Community Engagement Award recognizes the graduating student in the College of Arts and Sciences who has demonstrated a deep commitment to social justice and community engagement. The recipient has gone above and beyond in their service to others, carrying with them the founding principles of a Jesuit education, making choices as a leader for a just and humane world.
