

DAWN LYMAN MEYER
Assistant Teaching Professor

B.A. (1990) Smith College, Northampton, Massachusetts
Bachelor of Arts in Psychology and Art History

M.A (1994) Indiana University of Pennsylvania, Indiana,
Pennsylvania, Masters in Clinical Psychology

Psy.D. (1997) Indiana University of Pennsylvania, Indiana,
Pennsylvania, Doctorate in Clinical Psychology, 1997

TEACHING AND CLINICAL EXPERIENCE

Seattle University, Seattle, Washington (2020-Present) Taught Couples and Family Therapy, Group Therapy, Supervision and Ethics. Have also taught a number of undergraduate courses.

St. Edward's University, Austin Texas (2017-2019) Taught Assessment Techniques in Family Therapy, Advanced Techniques in Family Therapy and Counseling Theories in the Masters of Counseling program.

Private Practice (2015-present) Have a full-time private practice where I see individual adults dealing with trauma, couples and families. Have advanced training in Gottman Method Couple's Therapy, Emotion Focused Therapy, EMDR and Brainspotting. I also supervise post-masters and post-doctoral students preparing for licensure.

Middle School Guidance Counselor (2009-2014) Colorado
Academy, Denver Colorado

High School Guidance Counselor (2006-2009) Lake Highland
Preparatory School, Orlando, Florida

Psychologist/Guidance Counselor (2004-2006), Eastside
Catholic High School, Bellevue, Washington.

University of Washington Counseling Center, Pre-doctoral Internship (1997-1998)

Drug and Alcohol Rehabilitation Program, Madigan Army
Medical Center (1993)

RESEARCH EXPERIENCE

Research Assistant, University of Washington, Seattle, Washington. Administered a lengthy battery of psychological tests to elementary school children in the Seattle Public School System.

Dissertation, Indiana University of Pennsylvania, Indiana, Pennsylvania. The Effect of Clients' Religious Coping on the Perceptions of Psychologists.

University of Washington/Children's Hospital Was on a team studying reoccurring abdominal pain in children. An interventionist seeing both children and their parents.

Seattle University, Seattle, Washington, Perceived Support of Transgender Students

PROFESSIONAL CREDENTIALS

Licensed Psychologist, State of Washington

Licensed Psychologist, State of New York

PSYPACT License